F. D. R. Ordered Indictment and Jail ! !

JEWISH EXAMINER BRAGGS ABOUT IT

I have continually maintained that U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle did not order my indictment and removal to Washington, D. C. on a criminal conspiracy charge. Biddle is too inherently honest for such a dirty trick. I charged, from the beginning, the Jewish Gestapo and Spy system with being the instigators and step by step I am adducing the proof. They used the labor unions as their cat's paw to sign petitions addressed to the President for my arrest. Biddle and Biddle's regular staff wanted none of it, because no criminal offense had been committed on my part. No law had been violated. I simply exposed the lawless Jewish agitators and their communistic activities. They tried to buy me, scare me, kill and drown me, they even sent women to entangle me, and none of it worked, so they used the President as their last tool and he ordered Biddle to proceed. Still being too decent, Biddle did not put his own staff on the dirty work. A New York lawyer, Wm. Power Maloney, was hired from the outside. And after the Supreme Court exposed the dirty character of this stooge, another Red New York lawyer, O. John Rogge, supplantd him..

Walter Winchell blasted the "Vermin" press, because I refused to sell out, be intimidated, or corrupted by women and on March 26, 1942, the widely syndicated columnists Pearson & Allen reported this incredible follow-up of Winchell's blast: "After three months of temporizing with native Fascist champions, Atty. Genl. Francis Biddle is finally going to get tough on direct personal orders of the President. . . . Finally White House Advisors — alarmed over the situation, took the matter direct to the President. They laid before him a mass of evidence dealing with Noble, Father Coughlin, Francis P. Moran of Boston, Gerald L. K. Smith of Michigan, and Charles B. Hudson of Omaha. One document shown Roosevelt was the March 16 issue of Coughlin's weekly publication which declared that a 'world-wide sacred war' was declared against Germany nine years ago . . . After carefully examining the evidence the President summoned Biddle, ordered him to get tough, and to do so immediately. . . "

Why was Father Couglin not indicted as soon as Sam Untermyer declared his "world-wide sacred war against Germany", using the boycott as a weapon to incite to war? I protested against this usurpation, by a handful of New York Jews, of the powers of Congress and the President. The treaty of friendship and commerce was still in force between Germany and the U. S. A. Were we to take dictation from those New York Jews against our own Constitution and treaty obligations?

They sent special B'nai B'rith investigators to find a way to shut me up. I held my ground as an independent American editor, a sovereign among a sovereign people and refused to sell out, though I was approached. So they sent a woman from London, posing as a fellow Vegetarian and Mazdaznan, to vamp and buy me with cash. I turned her down. They tried to indict me twice in Los Angeles on sedition. The Federal Grand Jury demurred.

So the President himself ordered me indicted among others. The man who had sworn to uphold the constitution and the laws of the U. S. A. — And "THE JEWISH EXAMINER", 2-25-44, brags that Samuel Untermeyer's outfit that that started that "world-wide sacred war" against Germany ten years ago, has been building its files on "native fascists", with " a great deal of the material used as evidence for the recent indictment of the thirty persons accused of sedition . . . drawn from its files . . . "

PRESIDENT vs. PEOPLE

Most readers do not realize that I was not arrested upon a warrant issued by the court in the name of THE PEOPLE of the U. S. A., which is the proper legal procedure where WE the people are the government and the courts operate under our direction, represented thru the Constitution and the Acts of our Congress. But in my case it was not the people who charged me with crime, but the President himself, first by ordering the Attorney General to proceed, second by issuing a PRESIDENTIAL WARRANT for my arrest. Thus the functions ordinarily exercised by the people under due process of law, have been usurped by the President.

The same situation exists as in the case of the NRA. There the president misused his office to intimidate private citizens to join his Nationl Racketeers Association, the NRA, with him as its Chief. He misused the mails to foist an illegal racket upon us. He used all the racketeer tactics by fomenting terrorism and class hatreds through boycotts and threats of dire consequences. He followed the plan of the junk dealers to junk the constitution and the laws of this country which he had sworn to uphold, protect and execute.

I was one of the very few who dared challenge his authority. He and his junk dealers, who failed to junk our Constitution when the Supreme Court ruled against them, have never forgiven me for exposing the National Racketeers Association. But I am one of those who consider an oath a sacred obligation and not something to be submitted to junk dealers to be junked at their convenience, thus they never succeeded to intimidate me. I am citing them before the Throne of the Almighty for taking the Lord's Name in vain and I never withdraw my charge. They cannot escape the Lord's judgment and the more misery and persecutions they pile upon me, the more they have to answer for. I am not afraid of time, death or misery. I stand by my oath and demand compliance.

In the D. C. Jail my court-appointed attorney asked me to sign a statement addressed to the Dept. of Justice, upon request of the Atty. A. L. Wirin, of Los Angeles, that I would not mention this case in The Broom, if released to return to San Diego. I fired the attorney and told him to tender his resignation to the court, which he did.

Why are they afraid of my getting at the bottom of this case?

And in San Diego, another woman went out of her way to vamp me, and asked me not only to shut up about having been in prison, but to stop printing The Broom.

And now we are going to have a showdown. If this woman is honest, and not an alien agent, she has a chance to live up to her high claims of being in San Diego, from Hollywood, on a "special mission for Christ" posing as a strict vegetarian who eats no butter, but gobbles French fried potatoes, fried in meat renderings.

And now the London Times comes out in defense of a strong Germany.. And I am still under a thousand dollars bond for "demoralizing the armed forces and the people of the U. S. A."

What more do you want than what the London Times advocates?! If that is not "aiding the enemy" after Roosevelt and Churchill proclaimed "unconditional surrender", what is aid and comfort to Germany to keep her strong?!

The Catholic TABLET, of Brooklyn, exposed the Jewish Gestapo and minced no words about it. And The TABLET quoted the Jewish sources that bragged that they had high pressured Atty. Gen. Biddle into promising them that no matter what happened to others, he would not allow the 2 indictments against C. Leon de Aryan to be dismissed without special permission from him.

Which goes to show that Jews cannot rule me, that all their tricks don't terrorize me. I took an oath to the Constitution, and unlike FDR, I stand by it and don't try to circumvent it as he does with this soldier ballot, again.

Loves and Hates

(John O'Donnell in the New York News)

Increasingly, the mail of Washington correspondents is laden with letters from organizations (many fresh-born) and individuals—all with the same plea of tossing the "unconditional surrender" ukase of Roosevelt out the window and calling for an armistice now and a negotiated peace. One of the most ambitious is the Peace Now movement based on the thesis that "every foreign war that the United States engaged in until World War I, ended in a negotiated peace". They've compiled this "love and hate" record of our warring America:

1755—(French and Indian war): We loved the British and hated the French.

1776—(American Revolution): We loved the French and hated the British.

1799—(Sea battles with France): We hated the French.

1812—(War of 1812): We loved the French and hated the British.

1846—(Mexican war over Texas): We loved the southerners and hated the Mexicans.

1861-1864—(Civil war; Britain aids the south): We hated the southerners and the British.

1898—(Spanish-American war): We hated the Spanish.

1900—(Boxer uprising in China): We loved the Japanese and hated the Chinese.

1904—(Russo-Japanese war): We loved the Japanese and hated the Russians.

1914—(Allies in World War I): We loved the Japanese and the Russians.

1914—(Marines land at Vera Cruz): We hated the Mexicans.

194—(Beginning of World War I): We loved the British and French and hated the Austrians and Germans.

1915—(Italy joins allies): We loved the Italians.

1916—(Pershing invades Mexico): We hated the Mexicans.

1917—(Allies in World War I: Russian bolshevik revolution): We loved the Japanese and the Chinese but not the Russians.

1918—(Our troops invade Russia): We loved the Italians and hated the Russians.

1927—(United States bombards Nanking): We loved the Japanese and hated the Chinese.

1935—(Italy invades Ethiopia): We hated the Italians.

1936—(Communists despoil China): We loved the Chinese and hated the Russians.

1939—(Beginning of World War II): We loved the British and French and hated the Germans and Russians.

1939—(Russia invades Finland): We loved the Finns and hated the Russians.

1941—(Russia fights Germany and Finland): We loved the Russians and hated the Finns.

1941—(War with Japan): We loved the Filipinos and hated the Japanese.

1941—(World War II): We loved the British, Chinese, Dutch, Russians, and hated the Germans, Italians and Japanese.

1942—(Allies in World War II): We loved the Mexicans and other Latin Americans.

1943—(Allies in World War II): We love the Chinese, try to love Russians and British.

1944—And afterward: Shall we continue our tragically, fatal, shifting friendship and hatreds? Or shall we abandon our futile and suicidal opportunism and begin now to cooperate constructively with the peoples of all countries in building a better world together?

IN DEFENSE OF THE LOUSE

Dear de Aryan:

Just received your issue of February 28th, and my blood is boiling. I refer to your front page cartoon in re Robert Burns "To A Louse"; in which you mention a list of New Dealers.

If I know anything about it, that cartoon is a base and unwarranted Libel—upon the Louse.

It would seem that even a Louse should be held to have SOME RIGHTHS which we should feel found to respect. The reputation of that insect is bad enough, without us going out of our way to offer it gratuitous insults, and to make it the victim of mudslinging.

I protest ! ! ! Sincerely, G. K. KNAPP.

CITY COUNCIL CLOSES CARD ROOMS AND RUNS GAMBLING DEVICES IN EVERY BUSINESS STREET OF SAN DIEGO

Do you realize what a bunch of hypocrites we have at city hall?

Everytime you park your car near a parking meter you gamble and the city gets a cut. You gamble that you will be back before the meter runs up the red sign on you that costs you a dollar. The city gets the dollar when you guessed wrong. If you come back ahead of time and pull out, the city steals the pennies you lost when overpaying. When you put in a nickel and discover you guessed wrong and put in another nickel, the one-arm-bandits steal your money for the time in between. And these gambling hypocrites, called "Honorable City Council" have the gall to close up cardrooms! They are violating the laws of the state of California when they place gambling machines on the streets that steal your money and don't give you equivalent returns.

Roosevelt Demands Annulment

The federal ballot mystery may open up on simple examination without using a lie detector, without toiling the suspects, or getting their finger prints. Why do officers and representatives of the United States, sworn to support the Constitution of the United States, knowingly undertake to annul it? That's our mystery.

Have they ever read the Constitution? Mr. Roosevelt says he has. That's why he knows, as he says he does, that there must be a national election this year. Some one had asked why bother. Mr. Rosevelt took a superior tone. He said that persons making such suggestions had never read the Constitution. He has. He knows, therefore, that his term of office, acccording to the Norris amendment, expires Jan. 20. The office is vacant after that date unless there has been a choice by the Presidential electors or, in an occurrence of negligible possibility, by the national house of representatives.

Mr. Roosevelt's voluntary testimony that he has read the Constitution is welcomed and will be accepted for the record. Can it be assumed that he also understands it? If so, then he knows that congress cannot pass any valid act stipulating how the Presidential electors shall be chosen—"appointed", the Constitution says. Congress has no more authority to do so than the American Bar Association, the Rotary clubs, or the Junior Association of Commerce. The supreme federal law delegated the power to the various state legislatures and no act of congress can set up any other procedure.

Congress may set the day for the selection of the electors. Congress can set the day when the electors meet and cast their votes. Congress cannot pass a lawful act otherwise affecting the electors, either by providing a ballot or by indicating how the individual voter's choice may be indicated.

A President is taking a chance when he uses a message to congress to advocate nullification. What induced Mr. Roosevelt to ask for annulment? What led him to the audacity of telling the country, and by short wave the service men overseas, that congress "would perpetrate a fraud on the people" if it obeyed the Constitution? He was pretty sure of himself. He was pretty sure that the house of representatives would be too partisan or too timid or both to put him on trial.—Chicago Tribune.

ENCLOSED $3. — — —

Dear Mr de Aryan:

I received several of your copies and drank every word of it. I find it the best and most truthful of them all. If only the people would wake up and take notice of what is going on. I have been studying along these lines for many years. Just as soon as you get some one interested, along comes a "Willkie" and upsets everything. Willkie had a man here Friday getting endorsements. He got about 7 names, The Banker, Undertaker and a few other get rich quick change artists. I am just as much afraid of Dewey. I am enclosing some literature, use it if you wish. I am enclosing $3.00 for sub.

If you have a few extras for the 50c send them and I will hand them out. — — — WISCONSIN.

30 Defendants in Sedition Trial Tied to Hitler

JUSTICE DEPT. DEPICTS THEM AS FULL-FLEDGED AXIS PARTNERS

WASHINGTON— The Government's first bill of particulars in its sedition conspiracy case against Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, Chicago, and 29 others was filed in the Federal Court for the District of Columbia by O. John Rogge and Joseph W. Burns, special assistants to the Attorney General.

The bill of particulars, a document that usually sets forth details of the parts allegedly played by defendants in the commission of a crime charged against them, in this instance contained a lengthy history of the rise of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi party in Germany on 25 of its 32 pages.

Publications Listed

Almost three of the seven remaining pages contained lists of publications allegedly used by the defendants for seditious purposes and the names of those defendants that allegedly organized, used and supported these publications.

In almost every instance, publication and distribution of the allegedly seditious documents usually carried the name of the authors and publishers in bold type..

The 30 defendants, named in the indictment, are charged with conspiring to aid in the establishment of a National Socialist form of government in the United States.

The indictments alleged that the 30 defendants joined with Nazi party leaders in a "systematic campaign of propaganda designed and intended to impair and undermine the loyalty and morale of the military and naval forces of the United States of America and other countries."

Time Not Specified

None of the indictments specified at what particular time each individual defendant joined in the conspiracy or the particular part he took in it. Defense attorneys have filed motions with the court asking that the Justice Department furnish them with this information.

The defendants want to know specifically what each one said or wrote that the Justice Department considers seditious. They have asked for full details of the alleged conspiracy. Little or none of this information was contained in the Government's bill of particulars filed here.

Because of this, lengthy legal arguments are expected to be heard on this subject Monday when Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher, of the District Court, takes up the defendants' motions. Prolonged arguments is expected to delay start of the trial of the case, now tentatively scheduled for April.

"New Order" Called Aim

The aim of the Nazi conspirators in the United States, the bill said, was to establish their "new order"—a National Socialist or Fascist form of government.

The Justice Department said that once the Nazis got the "seed of revolution" planted in a country, they planned to convert "natives" of each country to their movement and use these natives as leaders. It said Hitler found the defendants named in its indictments ready to join him, just as he found Vidkun Quisling in Norway and Pierre Laval in France.

—B—

Ferenz Pleads 'Not Guilty'

WASHINGTON—Obstacles to the trial of 30 persons indicted here January 3 on a charge of conspiracy to establish a Nazi form of government in the United States, were removed when Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of District Court overruled several demurrers filed by the defendants which had attacked the validity of the indictment.. Justice Eicher upheld the validity of the indictment as drawn.

The next move scheduled in connection with the indictment is a hearing set for March 13 on motions for bills of particulars which ask that the Government outline in greater detail the alleged offense charged. Tentative date for trial of the 30 persons indicted is March 20.

With the appearance in District Court of Franz K. Ferenz of Los Angeles, who pleaded not guilty before Justice Eicher, the pleas of all those indicted were completed.

Ferenz was described by the Justice Department at the time the indictment was returned as having been active in the Friends of Progress, distributing Nazi propaganda films. He is now serving a sentence for violation of the California anti-subversive laws.

Trial of the 30 persons indicted by a Washington Grand Jury on charges of attempting to spread mutiny in the armed forces will open early in April. Arthur Derounian, alias John Roy Carlson, who was expected to testify for the government, may be in the army then. He has just been reclassified 1 A.—New York Post.

One Arm Bandits: Parking Meters

The other day I parked my car in a two-hours parking zone, dropped a nickel in the slot machine, which pays for 60 minutes parking, and went about my business. Half an hour later I discovered that I'd need two hours to finish my chores, so I returned to the car and dropped another nickel into the slot. I looked, and shook the meter, but the damned one-arm-bandit had stolen my nickel and instead of registering an additional 60 minutes, sold me short, by ignoring what I had paid and not used before, registering only a total of 60 minutes, instead of the 84 minutes I had paid for.

Thus the city of San Diego is in the gambling business. They rob us in plain daylight. The city manager is a thief. So is the Mayor and the City Council and the Police Department and the Municipal Judge. A bunch of one-arm bandit-racketeers, all of them.

The city manager put in those meters. He selected them. If he is so stupid, he does not know they are stealing, then he ought to go to Kindergarten and Sunday School to learn the ABC of honesty.

The Mayor and the Council ordered the bandits installed and the Police Department is forcing us to pay for the use of our own streets and be robbed in the bargain. The Municipal Court allows himself to be party to this outrage, by sentencing us to penalties if we don't fork over the pennies and nickels. None of them investigated to make sure they don't short-change us; or if they did and know they are robbing us, then all of them ought to be put in jail.

14 DAYS NOTICE TO REMEDY CRIMINAL ABUSE

I am hereby serving notice on the City Attorney of San Diego, who is just as derelict in his duty as all the rest of the officials affected, to take the necessary steps to correct this mechanical defect of the one-arm-bandits, or else remove them all from the streets of San Diego. If they fail to correct their evil ways I shall take the necesary steps to make them do it.

London Wants Strong Germany

WASHINGTON— It now becomes clear that F.D.R. and Secretary of State Hull are running into heavy going in shaping postwar Europe according to their heartfelt desires. One of their immediate headaches pivots and whirls on the hot spot of writing out the conditions of unconditional surrender of the European foes of these so-called United Nations.

But the citizens of Great Britain have just learned that their government is against any partition of the German nation.

This is importatn news.

It was revealed in the London Times, a newspaper which, unlike any publication in this country, can speak (and does) with the authoritative voice of the ruling power and accurately forecasts the future moves of the British nation. It was in the columns of the same Times of London, for example, that the world first learned the attitude of the British government with respect to the German demand that the Versailles Treaty be brushed aside, so far as the inclusion of German-dominated Sudetenland in Czechoslovakia was concerned.

This accurate and sound prescience, borne out often and swiftly by factual developments, has been repeated again and again. The Times speaks by the book because, so often, it's the book itself. And now the Times wholeheartedly damns any proposal to partition Germany at the peace table, insists that European political health and economic well-being demand an efficient, integrated, productive Germany and warns that any attempt to rip Germany apart and scatter it into small political units is bound to "create a political cancer at the heart of the European organism."

In the light of all that has happened, this is the voice of the Churchill government speaking. It means that Great Britain doesn't want to look across the Channel into a postwar Communist Europe—and the danger of communism in France and Germany gives many a shiver in London and a few right here in Washington.

But F. D. R., on the other hand, wants to play along with Pal Joey Stalin. Pal Joey's decision to set up 16 independent Soviet republics in his empire—each with its separate foreign service and army, but all linked by the bond of communism—hasn't worried Washington as much as it has London. But in London there is foreseen, probably accurately, that, with each advance westward of the Russian arms, there will be new political organizations set up by the Soviet victors—Romania, Bulgaria, Austria and progressively westward toward the Channel.

"After all you can't blame the Russians if they give the guns to their friends when they take over new territory—we did the same thing in North Africa and Italy," one U. S. military governor sagely observed.

Hence the slight headache over the conditions of F. D. R.'s unconditional surrender. It is apparent that the Churchill government, as one of the unconditional conditions, wants Germany in physical condition to block off any enthusiastic desire that Pal Joey might have to extend Communism to the beaches of Holland, Belgium and France. And you can't blame them. After all, perhaps Winston couldn't be blamed if he let the suggestion drop in the White House ear that, after all, this was Britain's business and none of our damned affair.

—John O'Donnell in Times-Herald.

'Fixed' Slot Machines

The Honorable Mayor and
City Council of San Diego, California.
Gentlemen:

While you have expressed a horror over gambling and closed the cardrooms in the city, you have equipped the business districts with one-arm-bandit slot machines, misnamed parking meters and introduced compulsory gambling in our fair city with a cut for the house and penalties if the poor motorist guesses wrongly. The motorist is sufficiently harrassed by federal bureaucracy without you forcing him to gamble by patronizing your crooked slot machines in violation of the gambling laws of California.

A motorist is compelled to guess how long he is going to stay parked in a certain spot. Then he pays the correstponding sum into your crooked slot machines. If he missed, your cop comes along and soakes him a dollar from the which his pension fund gets a rake-off. If he guessed long you steal his money by not refunding him for the time he didn't park. If he returns to prolong his allotted and paid for parking period, your crooked machine does not credit him correctly for the time paid in.

I parked my car and paid a nickel. After 35 minutes I returned and paid in another nickel. Your crooked slot machine credited me only with 95 minutes for a dime in place of the 120 I paid for. That violates the gambling laws of California.

I am giving you 14 days to correct your one-arm-bandits, or else remove them from our streets. You are the biggest hypocrites, bearing down on others for alleged gambling when you force people to play your crooked slot machines and soak them a dollar when they guessed wrong, to boot.

Sincerely, C. LEON de ARYAN.

SOLAR AIRCRAFT NEWS

In recognition of his "pioneering work in the field of aircraft comfortization", the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences has elected Albert A. Arnhym, consulting engineer of Solar Aircraft Co., an associate fellow, according to word received here from New York City. He thus becomes one of the few associate fellows of the scientific organization in this area..

Arnhym, who has been with Solar for three and a half years, is credited with coining the word "comfortization" in connection with flight crews in the war.

He has written about this subject extensively, and is the author of a book, "Comfortization of Aircraft", which is being pubished by a New York publisher.

"I created the expression 'comfortization' to show that great care should be taken to provide maximum comfort for the flight crews in order to increase their efficiency," Arnhymn said. "The less mental and physical strain caused by noise, lack of proper ventilation, poor heating, etc., the more efficient the crew becomes.

"That same principle applies to passengers and the crews of civilian aircraft. Solar is carrying on extensive research in that field."

Prior to joining Solar, Arnhym was with Howard Ketcham, Inc., of New York. Earlier, he owned and operated his own research laboratories in Chicago. He studied in Berlin and Prague universities.

San Diegan Honored

This is Albert A. Arnhyn, consulting engineer of the Solar Aircraft Co., who has just been elected an associate fellow of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences in New York City in recognition for his "pioneering work in the field of the comfortization of aircraft." Arnhyn coined the word "comfortization" and has written extensively about its need. Solar is carrying on research in this new phase of aeronautical science.

A Christian Prayer

In Naples, Italy, on Thanksgiving Day, an American boy said grace. That simple prayer to his Father, of a 22 year old veteran pilot, is an indictment of all the wordy churchmen; and of the pious platitudes of those who pray for victory for our side.

That boy in Italy, gave thanks as Paul enjoined us—"in all things by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your request be made known unto God." He thanked God for the food, then he asked a blessing upon the loved ones far away. Up to that point it was the common prayer of all, but this boy's prayer took a high turning—it left the accepted, the lowlands of prayer "for me and mine and victory for our side".

Out of that boy's deep experience he had found God—as no churchman knows Him, he followed Jesus the Christ up to the throne of God. The ending of this boy's prayer makes fatuous fools of all those sleek, well-fed saintly parsons from the minister in Mr. Roosevelt's church, who prayed for victory for our side, down to all the lip service servants. Hear the sublime ending of that Yank's prayer and rejoice that one American knows the meaning of Christmas. "Dear God bless all the fighting men on all the fronts around the world—ON BOTH SIDES". The few concluding words are again ordinary but those three words lift Christianity to its rightful place—the words are worthy to stand side by side with Jesus, "Love your enemies that ye may be the children of your Father which is in Heaven". The Yank's prayer pleased the All Father more than all the prayers of schools and creeds.

C S Mother Church Betrayed the Christ

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Your letter of February 21st with the request that we publish exact data convicting the Christian Science organization of betrayal of its high trust, has caused me to be gratful that you noted that sentence in "WOMEN'S VOICE", and thoughtful of how I should answer.

Your statement of principle that neither Congress nor the President can curtail your right of expression coincides with my own. Those rights were not invented by the framers of the Constitution. They are our rights as children of the Divine, and have been secured to us by the blood of brave men and women through the ages. The founders of our country simply fixed them in the cement of a written Constitution.

Yes, I have noted in "The Broom" mention of Marion Fay—and it is a sadness to me to know that a girl of such high ideals should fall under the mesmerism which has apparently taken over the Christian Science organization.

You ask "when, where and how, did the organization go on record that it no longer concerned itself with the Christ principle, but represents the King of England and the Allied war aims?" To answer this honestly, I think it best to tell you of my own experience. I was raised in the Methodist Church, although always a questioner and a thorn in the flesh of that organization. It was not until World War I that I realized that it had none of the Christ Spirit.

When that war came on, I asked for bread and was given a stone. How could the church talk of Jesus the Christ and his teaching of love and still sanction war?

My husband and I spent several years hunting for a church, a belief, a philosophy, which would give meaning to life. We found Christian Science and knew that, if Mary Baker Eddy's teachings were followed, that Church could never condone war. Mrs. Eddy's fundamental principle is based upon the assumption that all is mind and there is no matter.

Some of Mrs. Eddy's lip service followers have made the inane statement that "We must choose the lesser of two evils" or "We must fight for our ideals". Take the former statement, which is only a parrot mouthing, and has no thought content, and analyse it in the light of Mrs. Eddy's "Statement of Being". If God is all—there is no evil. A Christian Scientist cannot take a halting, halfway position, he is either of the absolute mind of God's Allness, or he is not a follower of Mrs. Eddy and her Christ. Mrs. Eddy defined a Christian Science treatment as "absolute reality of present perfection".

I wrote the Board of the Mother Church when I became aware of its defections "How can you take England's side? Those two countries, England and Germany have war—or smallpox—would Mrs. Eddy say one case is less bad than the other? No! According to everything she wrote, she would recognize neither as reality".

Take a look at the second statement "We must fight for our ideals". Yes, but according to her definition, there is no matter—where then do swords and guns come in? Mrs. Eddy said "Love thine enemies is identical with thou has no enemies". She also said "Christian Science reinforces Christ's sayings and doings". And her constant admonition was "Follow me only as long as I follow Christ".

The organization has not a leg to stand on, if accepting her principles or her expressed sayings.

If you will read in the Christ Science and Miscellany, Chapter 15, Peace and War, you will find such sayings as these: "Killing men is not consonant with the higher law whereby wrong and injustice are righted and exterminated". "Nothing is gained by fighting, but much is lost". "I am absolutely and religiously opposed to war, whereas I do believe implicitly in the full efficacy of Divine Love to conciliate by arbitration all quarrels between nations and peoples".

However, if the cornerstone of her teachings, her Scientific Statement of Being, is known, added testimony is superfluous.

I am a class taught student, and have been very active in the Church. In sorrow, I confess, I was not as alert as some and did not see the disintegration until about three years ago, when the "Monitor" became quite pro-British and pro-war. Other students have told me it has been going on for years. Definitely, it began when the publishing house was built, and Mrs. Eddy's principle of paying for everything before it was dedicated was broken by a mortgage being placed on it. Naturally, the Jews held the mortgage, and, after that, some Jews became members of the Board. I have one friend here who says that his teacher, who saw what was happening and protested, was mentally assassinated some ten years ago.

When Edwin Canham, an Englishman, publisher of a London magazine, became assistant editor of the "Monitor", the policy of the "Monitor" was completely changed. We who have protested are always told "The Board of the Mother Church are more spiritual they should know". This is in direct opposition to Mrs. Eddy's teaching. She decried the blind following of a spiritual guide, she warned against it, and tried to protect the movement by taking out all personality by saying "If you want to find me, seek me in my writings".

Many Christian Scientists have resigned from the branch churches and Mother Church—many feel as I do—that not one periodical be permitted to come into our homes. The churches here in Chicago are empty. My church is the 9th in Chicago. It will seat 900 people. Five years ago, it was full. Today, at the most, it has 200. The Sunday school has fallen from 700 or 800 to 100.

I am enclosing a copy of a letter my sister wrote to the Mother Church, and I hope I have given you something of worth, even if I cannot answer your questions specifically. The mesmerized ones, who are adhering to the Church today, cannot see the great betrayal of the organization. Of course, the guilty ones at the top will not admit it.

For more than two years, I have had a statement ready for publication, but the time is not yet. That one sentence which you read cost me the only physical illness I have had in twenty-five years. The Jews have learned the use of Mrs. Eddy's mind law and they use it to destroy. And make no mistake—the mesmerized members hate bitterly.

This letter is unconscionably long, but this subject is close to my heart. I will say to you that the defection of the Christian Science organization was almost a knockout blow to me. I knew that no true Christian Scientist could ever follow war, but I had not foreseen this mesmerism of so-called Scientists. Here I go again—but there is so much to say. I have!

The organization will never come back—and Mrs. Eddy knew it would fail, but Christian Science, the knowledge of the Christ, will only have thrown off all bonds.

Sincerely yours,
LYRL CLARK VAN HYNING.

BLACK MAGIC NOT CHRISTIAN

Dear Mrs. Van Hyning:

Thanks for your lovely letter. I shall publish it, since it gives enough human interest data and facts worth knowing by the public at large. Others will add to it, I am sure. You are using the right term, "mesmerized", AND THEY HAVE LEARNED THE LAW using it as black magic. I had a fall-in with the Church several years ago, because I do not agree with the collection of $2 and up per "spiritual" treatment, and with other doctrines of the founder herself, such as—"really"—there being no matter, only mind. The truth is different. But immediately they "treated me" and because I was not watchful, I broke down and still carry the marks of battle. But all it did, it made me even more resolved than ever to expose the BLACK MAGIC.

You, and all who honestly looked to "Christian Science" as the Science of the Christ and gave your soul to it and your heart's most sublime adoration, you who have been shocked beyound description by the profanation thru the Board of the Mother Church, will grasp what hell I passed through recently when I discovered that Marion, who had contacted me as one in the service of the Christ and won my heart on that basis, turned out to be nothing but a mesmerized, mesmerizing agent for Roosevelt worship and the glorification of Allied war aims. I could not believe it that one with as much grasp of the principle of LOVE, Christ-Love, would pervert it to such uses. I sensed it about her at the first meeting, but had to go all the way to give her the benefit of the doubt, to prove herself, so she would never be able to say she did not get the full chance. But what it did to me . . . .

Mary Baker Eddy is mistaken about Mind being real, but not matter.

While matter is the product of mind, both are subject to the same law of reality. One could not be more real than the other. They are the two ends of the SAME stick. They are two poles of the same SUBSTANCE.

Mrs. Eddy failed being scientific because she did not distinguish between the divine Entity, the Christ in Man, his Spirit, his Soul, his Mind and his Physique or Body. She had only two realms, the physical and the metaphysical. She called the metaphysical real and the physical unreal. The truth is both are equally real, the same LAW governs both. The very mistakes in matter prove the reality of matter, because matter reflects both mistakes and truth ABSOLUTELY correctly.

Just to give you an example. To remind yourself, what do you do? You write yourself a note. The note is material and contains the message of reminder. Are not the books real, reminding us of the truth which divine genius perceived and wrote down for your guidance? I there is not matter, what about Eddy's books? Are they real or a fake, too?

One cannot correct the misconceptions mentioned in such a short space or time, but even so, Mrs. Eddy's writings convict the Board of the Mother Church of selling the Christ to the Jews for 30 pieces of silver.

Sincerely, yours
C. LEON de ARYAN.

If I Had But—

TEN DAYS TO LIVE

WHAT WOULD I DO, AND HOW EMPLOY THE TIME ?

By ERNEST CRUTCHER, M. D., 32nd dg., F.P.S.
Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES— Imprimis, I would pay any obligations. Give away all my belongings prior to demise. Engage cremation and an abbreviated Scottish Rite funeral service—the shorter the wiser. Request no grief nor flowers, ask extreme simplicity and celerity in bestowal of this earthly tabernacle, and indiscriminate scattering of ashes in some wooded section.

I would ask forgiveness and try to make reparation to any who might feel aggrieved or unjustly dealt with.

I would send kindly greetings and God Speed to all friends whom I think might miss me on earth, or sorrow if I were gone. Then, with unspeakable thanks to the Creator for the immeasurable glory of having lived, with the joy of having loved, and the privilege of having served my day and generation, I would lie down serene and assured that, even as so would I be secure in expectation of renewed and fuller life in another and fresh investiture of body, shapen, modified and adapted to that environment into which I shall go when my earthly house or tabernacle is dissolved.

I should die adoring God, loving all mankind, hating none; forgiving, condoning and excusing all with whom I differ; hoping that the world might have less theology and more religion, less Christianity and more Christian charity, less tobacco and alcohol and more wholesome diversion and healthfulness; less self-pity, loneliness and self-seeking; more cheerfulness, cheerful service and self-abnegation; less silliness and more education; less self-debasing and more self-aspiring and exaltation; less cigarets and more candy; less whine and more laughter; less frown and more smiles;—joyous and glad, grateful and exulting, with spiritual salience in the instant consciousness of life and altruism for my fellows.

With profound gratitude to fate, friends and the Creator, I would pass into peaceful slumber —unafraid.

Disdain of sacredotalism and primitive notions of God's purposes and anger.

Courage to fight wrong, or injustice by any power or authority.

Realization that God is never asleep nor away from Home.

That earth is an inferior planet, and man, being inferior, and unprepared for finer environment and conditions, is placed here to unfold and refine.

Discontent with indolent contentment.

Disbelief in the sudden transition from sordid earthly unfitness and unevolvement, into heavenly perfection by any miraculous interposition.

Conviction of my Father's care and abiding love, resting content and full faith in His consciousness that All's right with the universe. That whatever happens is with God's permission, and that whatever comes is of His will and predetermination. May He make me proud of being His son, and confident in His graciousness and concern.

Increased and ever increasing gratitude for life or death, with recognition that each is a privilege and adventure, neither a "curse" for aboriginal apple-theft, nor belief that my Father is ever "angry" with His benighted creatures.

Full appreciation of life, and abiding consciousness that death is only a gracious privilege and entry into other field of usefulness and enjoyment.

"In life or in death, underneath are the Everlasting Arms."

What Do I Ask As Fruitage Of Life ?

Addenda:

Keener perception and enlarged comprehension of its purpose. Greater toleration and sympathy with others battling with natural stupidity.

Enlargement of faculties and receptivity of ideas.

Retentive memory of useful knowledge.

Discrimination of facts and errors.

Alertness of intellectual vision and instant recognition of falsity.

Disdain of evil and vulgarity, including slang, profanity and cigarets.

Refinement of body and mind.

Compassion and understanding of another's burden and blindness.

Constant feeling after and hunger for God's will.

Rejection of theologic absurdities and misleadings.

Recognition of the rights of all others to freely live their own lives.

Helpful desire to aid any in distress of mind or body.

LONG WAR AHEAD

Dear Kosti:

Enjoyed your reply to the priests,—for no layman ever wrote so cloudily or fatuously about the California Missions. The article seems generally approved except by the "wincing galled jade".

I enclose a recent article of my own that has much approval, and wich, if you wish, you may reproduce for the good it may do in relieving superstition. The Masonic World has the largest circulation of any Masonic magazine in the world except New Age, and I am gratified that it published the enclosed: "If I Had But Ten Days To Live" ?

Strangely, you avoid any discussion of this war? And you are capable of writing luminously about it. It will be very long and disastrous, with conditions sequelae to the Thirty Years Jesuits War in Germany. Regards, E.C.

Editor's Note: The real war is yet to come. It will be the sequel to this one, as predicted in George Washington's vision. But it won't come for 25 years yet. There will be an "armistice" in between and then all the world against the U. S. A. We'll beat them back and learn our lesson.

—B—

Editor, The Broom:

You really deserve a MILLION circulation, although that would embrace about all of our people of top intelligence, if there are that many in America. . .

VIVISECTION

By George Starr White, M. D.

ANIMALS AND HUMANS REACT DIFFERENTLY

A cable dispatch from abroad says that all the police force is out hunting for a lot of rabbits and ducks that escaped from their "garden" and strayed away. These innocent animals had been inoculated, the dispatch says, with some dreadful serum, just to see what their reaction would be.

Geo. Starr White

Think of it—poor, helpless animals, given filthy, syphilitic serum, to see how they would "act". Surely they acted very wisely in getting away from their vivisection tormentor— the laboratory sadist who was torturing them.

In the name of common sense, what has syphilis, or any other similar complaint in rabbits and ducks got to do with any kind of unhealth in humans! No duck could have the same kind of reaction to syphilitic serum as a rabbit, to say nothing of either having the faintest resemblance to a similar unhealth in humans?

Blood-lust—perverted desire to torture and mutilate—is the true reason for practically all this tainting and tormenting of helpless animals.

Judge Shell Announces Candidacy

JUDGE JOE L. SHELL

"I believe that my experience and record covering a period of more than thirty years in San Diego County, should qualify me to serve the people of this county as a Judge of the Superior Court. If elected, I will, to the best of my ability, administer justice fairly and impartially."

Born in Kansas, Judge Shell came to California in 1901, and to San Diego County in 1904. He graduated from the University of California, and was admitted to practice law in 1922. Before admission to practice he served as deputy probation officer. He also served as deputy county clerk under J. B. McLees, serving as department clerk in the court of the late beloved C. N. Andrews, for many years Presiding Judge of the Superior Court.

After being admitted to practice, Judge Shell served as deputy city attorney of San Diego, and as deputy district attorney, and then for eight years engaged in the private practice of law. He was elected Justice of the Peace in 1934, became a Judge of the Municipal Court on July 1, 1937, has twice been re-elected to that office, and has served three terms as Presiding Judge of that court.

Judge Shell has, on three occasions, been endorsed by bar plebiscites for election or appointment to the Superior Court.

Judge Shell and his wife, Nell, an Escondido girl, were married in San Diego in 1915. Their two children both graduated from high school in San Diego. Their daughter is Mrs. Harold J. Cook. Their son, Joe, Jr., was an honor student at Hoover High School, captained the high school championship football team, and then at the University of Southern California became a three-year Varsity letterman, and captained the U. S. C. Varsity football team which defeated the University of Tennessee in the Rose Bowl in 1940, after winning the Pacific Coast championship, Joe, Jr., is now an officer in the United States Navy Air Corps.

Judge Shell has been very active in civic and fraternal affairs, having served several years as Juvenile Protection chairman of the Parent-Teachers Association, and for five years a member of the Executive Committee of the San Diego County Coordinating Councils, as well as one term as President of such Executive Committee.

His many friends believe that his experience and service as practicing attorney, deputy city attorney, deputy district attorney and, for the last nine years as Judge, eminently qualify him for election as Judge of the Superior Court.

FEDERAL CITY

Soldier Voting, No National Law

WHAT BRISBANE SAID

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON— Fading away is the New Deal's hope of an unconstitutional national ballot law, whereby the American Muscovites hoped to steal the coming Presidential election.

There is no form of voting so susceptible of fraud, even under the most rigid controls, as the "absentee ballot". Many states passed such a law during World War I, but in the years following 1918 it became such a stench in its abuses that some States threw it out.

Near the closing hour of the election, the "absentee ballots" are brought out by the New Deal registrar in charge of the polling place; these are checked off against enrolled names of people no watchers seem to know, and are dropped into the ballot box. Whether they are honest and legitimate or fraudulent, there seems to be no method of determining.

Our unique American form of federal government has attained its greatness upon the "States" plan, with the Constitution guaranteeing each State a Republican form of government and the election of State electors and Congressmen under State and not federal law. Legal registration is one of the requirements to discourage fraud.

Our so-called "national" elections are simply 48 State elections held on the same day. Congress has no power to change the Constitution by statute.

Our noblest of all President, Gen. Washington, had been in his grave 33 years before the first national nominating convention was held. He and the other builders of the great Constitution have doubtless turned over in their graves a thousand times when they beheld the spectacles of non-legal, non-constitutional conventions of political "stooges" (for the most part) holding their wild "pow-wows", and selecting the nominee not on the basis of statesmanship and ability, but solely on the belief that he will "make the best run",—that is, will be pleasing to the lowest elements in our national life.

Our founding fathers never dreamed that the electors, duly appointed or elected by the State legislatures as the Constitution provides, would in 44 years become figureheads by "unwritten law", and their functions be usurped by politicians assembled under the thumb of the President.

In this way lie despotism and political ruin, as others foresaw long ago. For the Constitution plainly says that the electors (i. e. those who are supposed to select the President) must not be congressmen and shall hold no office of trust under the federal government.

To have persons, who have been duly elected in some legal manner, to meet in their respective State capitals, (all on the same day—to prevent possible big-convention corruption), and there to make their choice and cast their votes directly for the President, is a FAR BETTER METHOD of obtaining a good executive, than to have a non-legal mob-style political convention do the "picking", and then have to submit their candidate to the uninformed masses for approval.

We are the only great people to indulge in such nonsense.

It is not true "representative government". It is as though the janitors and elevator boys of a hospital were asked to pick the head surgeon; as though a national plebiscite were held to decide the patient in the hospital had gall stones or appendicitis.

To give the vote to soldiers in foreign lands is a tragedy, unless they are allowed complete freedom to read the arguments of both sides.

For example, it might be put squarely up to them—"If you want to come home when the war is over, vote Republican; if you want to stay and police the world, vote the New Deal Internationalist ticket".

On that major issue, the overseas boys could vote even more intelligently than the folks at home!

* * *

THE LONDON TIMES surprised the world a few days ago with its editorial, asking that Germany be not destroyed, but left as a strong nation. Is it possible that the British Conservative government is contemplating with horror the spectre of the Black Communist Bear of Russia, ruling all of Europe and peering at England from across twenty-five miles of water?

* * *

ARTHUR BRISBANE, master columnist of all time, wrote on May 27, 1935, in the Hearst press and hundreds of other newspapers, as follows:

"Loyd George, who possesses more real statesmanship than any hundred other men in England combined, more than any ten hundred in this country, takes a cheerful view of Hitler's latest message. The German demand for a 550,000-man army is justified by conditions surrounding him, according to Lloyd George, who emphasizes the fact Hitler agrees not to use any weapons that other nations will agree to discard."

To quote Brisbane farther, "Lloyd George, leader and victor in the last great war, has written a statement of historical significance, although it may be too optimistic. He quotes, as the statement of a remarkable man', Hitler's words, 'no people would ever ask for war unless encouraged to ask for it by its leaders'. These words by Lloyd George are aimed at France and Italy and their leaders.

"Lloyd George describes eloquently changes in Europe caused by the appearance on the scene of a new man:

" 'When Adolf Hitler appeared on the scene as Germany's dictator the whole position in Europe changed.

" ' Germany, the down-and-out victim of the treaty of Versailles, became the terror of its victorious framers. But Russia, dread wolf of the Eastern Steppes, became the cherished hope and ally of the West.

" 'Poland, the irreconciliable foe of Germany, became her only friend, and Italy her only friend, became her implacable foe.' "

These words were written about nine years ago. How allies and enemies change!

Firm friends become enemies. "Implacable enemies" become allies and friends.

America has fought Britain in two wars; defended and saved her in two later wars. Britain fought France in one war lasting 116 years; then became her ally in this century; they are now out of touch. Britain has fought nearly every country in the old world at one time or another. But she is our "mother country", and old-stock Americans have a real affection for "Great Britain and Ireland".

ORATORY and WINDOW-DRESSING

- - - Furthermore, the presumption of the Atlantic charter was that its basic principles applied to all—victor and vanquished alike. In points 4, 6 and 8, this was made specific. The Allied governments pledged to "all states, great or small, victor or vanquished" equal access to the trade and raw materials of the world (4); all nations were assured "the means of dwelling in safety within their own boundaries (6); the unilateral disarmament of the Axis was to be a preface to general disarmament (8).

Until a few weeks ago our psychological warfare was based on the Atlantic Charter, and airmen were dropping leaflets with its text over German towns.

But Mr. Churchill's speech undoes all this. He made the flat statement that the Atlantic Charter does not apply in any sense to the enemy. The term "unconditional surrender" means that we end the war, he explained, with no promises of any kind. We remain free to do exactly as we please, bound by no principles whatever—beyond the assurance, hardly necessary to make, that we will not behave in a "barbaric" manner.

Dr. Goebbels has struggled for two years to explain to the German people that the Atlantic Charter was window-dressing. He can now cease his efforts.—Dorothy Thompson.

ARABS vs. ZIONISTS

The attitudes of the Arabs as represented by Ibn Saud, king of Saudi Arabia, and that of Faris S. Malouf of Boston, president of the Syrian and Lebanese Federation of America, are dangerous and alarming.

Mr. Malouf stated that Arab position in language that leaves no doubt as to how the Arabs feel about a Jewish Commonwealth when he said:

"No matter how many nations band together to give somebody's home to somebody else is contrary to the elementary sense of justice."

TOO MUCH BUREAUCRACY

Dear Mr. Kosti:

I owe $1.00 on bill but I enclose $2.00 as my year is up. I want to continue the Broom, it gets better all the time. I received the "literal Brooms", and I think they are fine.

Reminds me of Mardi Gras back in New Orleans, where every fellow carries on in his own special costume and way, of course masks keep folks guessing. We have sickness in the home so had very little time to reply to your very interesting letter. I think you are a great man not alone for thinking such noble thoughts, but for publishing same. I like honesty and courage, it made my country and maintained it thru the years. I am not so sure now, however, with Evil in the saddle. I am for the moralities, a change in hi-officialdom is the fundamental, too much bureaucracy for an American.

ARIZONA OFF WARTIME

War time has been abolished in Arizona by proclamation of the governor. Clocks are now turned back to standard time. The governor says the war time in Arizona has caused a waste of electricity and caused school children and industrial workers to arise before dawn.

There has been widespread opposition to the new time, especially in the winter months, but Arizona is one of the first states to revert to standard time.

New Mexico was the first state to bowl over the national decree of 35 miles an hour speed limit for motor vehicles when the highway commission, at the order of the governor, fixed the speed limit at 45 miles on the ground that the higher rate was more economical because of our sparse population and the distances between communities.

Boondoggling on a Global Basis

The Reader's Digest of August 1943, had review excerpts from "Men in Motion" by Henry J. Taylor. It exposes the waste and folly of boondogling on a global basis. No good is coming out of it except ill will against the U. S. A. and added billions from Taxpayers' contributions.

The sum and substance is that Americans spend money by the barrel while the natives have no means of living up to such a standard. It results in envy and dissatisfaction.
